IZOD INDYCAR SERIES 2011 HISTORICAL RECORD BOOK

This book is the official reference for North American Indy car racing statistics dating to 1946, including the sanctioning bodies of AAA, USAC, CART/Champ Car and the Indy Racing League/INDYCAR.

The compilation approach – conceived and seen to fruition many years ago by dedicated individuals from sanctioning bodies and racing historians and updated through the 2010 IZOD IndyCar Series season by INDYCAR statistician Tim Sullivan – has been verified by STATS Inc., the global leader in sports data, statistics and information.

While the groups have gone to great lengths to verify information and make this book as detailed as possible, please bring any potential discrepancies to the attention of Steve Shunck (sshunck@indycar.com) and/or Tim Sullivan (tsullivan@brickyard.com) so they can be further researched and corrected in future issues if necessary.

*American Automobile Association (AAA) first created a National Track Championship in 1905. It was a series of races from 5 to 10 miles in length with points going to the first three finishing places. Barney Oldfield won most of the races and is considered the champion. However it is believed this championship may have been abandoned as AAA did not recognize it in subsequent years.

Prior to 1916, Motor Age, the leading American automobile journal, selected their pick for the best driver of the year from 1909-1915 and 1919. The following is a list of the Motor Age picks:

1909 – Bert Dingley
1910 – Ralph Mulford
1911 – Harvey Herrick
1912 – Ralph DePalma
1913 – Earl Cooper
1914 – Ralph DePalma
1915 – Earl Cooper
1919 – Eddie Hearne

At the urging of Motor Age, AAA established an official points championship in 1916. The championship was discontinued during war years and not revived again until 1920. Sometime around 1926 or 1927, Val Haresnape, at the time the secretary of the AAA Contest Board, used existing AAA records to reconstruct a championship for the years of 1909 to 1915 and from 1917 to 1920. Unfortunately, records from those early years were sketchy and any points applied by Haresnape had no validity from the original time period. For example, it was a common practice for AAA to penalize drivers with a loss of points as well as money for rules violations. Also, there is disagreement as to which races could legitimately be considered official and therefore count toward the championship. AAA accepted Haresnape's computations as official from 1927-28 and 1952-55. In 1951, racing historian Russ Catlin convinced AAA to change the 1909 champion from Bert Dingley to George Robertson and the 1920 champion from Gaston Chevrolet to Tommy Milton.

**AAA had two different listings for the 1920 season. At the start of the year, 11 races were listed as counting toward the championship, but at the end of the season, AAA determined the championship to be based on the results of five races giving Gaston Chevrolet the championship. These results were considered official by AAA from 1920-26 and 1929-51. The 11-race championship was first recognized in 1926 with Tommy Milton as champion and was considered official for 1927 and from 1952 to 1955, the final year that AAA sanctioned auto racing.

***AAA in 1946 had an original schedule which included not only the six traditional championship races as listed by recent historians but numerous other sprint car races on tracks of short length (less than 1-mile) and duration (mostly 15-20 laps). Ted Horn won the championship based not only on the six races that have been traditionally listed but also the one with all of the races. In annual meetings in December, 1946, AAA abandoned the counting of the sprint car races in the championship for 1947. The following is the 1946 top-ten in points as listed in an AAA bulletin as of December 31, 1946:

1. Ted Horn – 2,448
2. George Robson – 1,544
3. Emil Andres – 1,348
4. Bill Holland – 1,280.6
5. Tommy Hineshitz – 896.8
6. Walt Ader – 850
7. Jimmy Jackson – 800
8. Joie Chitwood – 693
9. Rex Mays – 613
10. Duke Dismore – 454

****United States Auto Club created the Gold Crown Series in 1981. This championship was designed with the Indianapolis 500 being the final race of the season. The first season (1981-1982) included both the 1981 and 1982 Indianapolis 500 as well as Pocono and selected dirt races that were a part of the USAC Silver Crown Series. The 1983-1984 season was the last in which there was more than just the Indianapolis 500 on the USAC Gold Crown schedule.

*Uncle of 1995 Champ Car champion Jacques Villeneuve

Note: Drivers listed with shared victories under footnotes a-i are credited with full race victories for shared wins.

(a) Bettenhausen relieved Myron Fohr at Milwaukee 8/29/48

(b) On 9/9/13, Earl Cooper started at Corona, Calif., in what was effectively a race for two classes of cars – stock chassis with engines of 450 cubic inches of displacement or less and unlimited racing cars. Cooper, driving a stock Stutz, led the race outright and took the checkered flag to win the 251-mi. stock class, and then continued to race and took the checkered flag to win the 301-mi. unlimited class. He was credited by the AAA with two wins despite driving just one time for a total of 301 miles.

(c) Aitken had two winning relief roles. He relieved Tom Kincaid at Atlanta 5/7/10 and Howard Wilcox at Santa Monica 11/18/16.

(d) Rose relieved Floyd Davis at Indianapolis 5/30/41.

(e) Co-winner with Tony Bettenhausen at Milwaukee 8/29/48.

(f) Co-winner with John Aitken at Santa Monica 11/18/16.

(g) Joe Boyer had two winning relief roles. He relieved Gaston Chevrolet at Uniontown 9/1/19 and L.L. Corum at Indianapolis 5/30/24.

(h) Co-winner with Joe Boyer at Uniontown 9/1/19.

(i) Co-winner with Aitken at Atlanta 5/7/10.

The 1911, 1912, 1923 and 1925 Indianapolis 500 winning cars were each driven in relief during the middle stages by a second driver. The accepted practice of the AAA, the governing body of the sport at the time, was to credit shared victories only when one driver started a race and another finished it. This practice has been continued in this list.

1920 (AAA)

| Rank | Driver           | Points |
|------|------------------|--------|
| 1    | Gaston Chevrolet | 1030   |
| 2    | Tommy Milton     | 930    |
| 3    | Jimmy Murphy     | 885    |
| 4    | Ralph DePalma    | 605    |
| 5    | Roscoe Sarles    | 540    |
| 6    | René Thomas      | 520    |
| 7    | Joe Thomas       | 351    |
| 8    | Ralph Mulford    | 350    |
| 9    | Eddie Hearne     | 345    |
| 10   | Eddie Miller     | 260    |

AAA had two different listings for the 1920 season. At the start of the year, 11 races were listed as counting toward the championship, but at the end of the season, AAA determined the championship to be based on the results of five races giving Gaston Chevrolet the championship. These results were considered official by AAA from 1920-26 and 1929-51. The 11-race championship was first recognized in 1926 with Tommy Milton as champion and was considered official for 1927 and from 1952 to 1955, the final year that AAA sanctioned auto racing.

*Sometime around 1926 or 1927, Val Haresnape, at the time the secretary of the AAA Contest Board, used existing AAA records to reconstruct a championship for the years of 1909 to 1915 and from 1917 to 1920. Unfortunately, records from those early years were sketchy and any points applied by Haresnape had no validity from the original time period. For example, it was a common practice for AAA to penalize drivers with a loss of points as well as money for rules violations. Also, there is disagreement as to which races could legitimately be considered official and therefore count toward the championship. AAA accepted Haresnape's computations as official from 1927-28 and 1952-55. In 1951, racing historian Russ Catlin convinced AAA to change the 1909 champion from Bert Dingley to George Robertson and the 1920 champion from Gaston Chevrolet to Tommy Milton.

Note: AAA had two different listings for the 1920 season. At the start of the year, 11 races were listed as counting toward the championship, but at the end of the season, AAA determined the championship to be based on the results of five races giving Gaston Chevrolet the championship. These results were considered official by AAA from 1920-26 and 1929-51. The 11-race championship was first recognized in 1926 with Tommy Milton as champion and was considered official for 1927 and from 1952 to 1955, the final year that AAA sanctioned auto racing. The races marked with the asterisk (*) did not count in the 1920 championship until the 1926 calculations were made.

*AAA established an official points championship in 1916. The championship was discontinued during war years and not revived again until 1920. Sometime around 1926 or 1927, Val Haresnape, at the time the secretary of the AAA Contest Board, used existing AAA records to reconstruct a championship for the years of 1909 to 1915 and from 1917 to 1920. Unfortunately, records from those early years were sketchy and any points applied by Haresnape had no validity from the original time period. AAA accepted Haresnape's computations as official from 1927-28 and 1952-55. In 1951, racing historian Russ Catlin convinced AAA to change the 1909 champion from Bert Dingley to George Robertson and the 1920 champion from Gaston Chevrolet to Tommy Milton.

(R) – Rookie

*Pollard qualified fifth for Milwaukee event and was eliminated in 10-car accident at start of race. His original car was scored in 15th. Pollard then took over the car of Greg Weld and went on to win the race. Weld gets credit for a start but has no finishing position.

**Official starting positions were not awarded for the Pikes Peak events, therefore only finishing positions are listed.
